Research Interests

- Human–AI interaction and teaming: trust, situation awareness, and adaptation
- Responsible AI: supporting human judgment, expertise, and learning in AI-assisted work.

Education

Clemson University

Ph.D. Human-Centered Computing (Advisor: Christopher Flathmann)

August 2024 – May 2029 (Expected)

Bowling Green State University

B.S. in Visual Communication Technology

Minor: Computer Science

2019 – 2023

Research Experience

BIG-CAT Research Lab

Graduate Research Assistant (Advisor: Christopher Flathmann)

August 2024 – Current

– Lead mixed-methods studies of trust, coordination, and effectiveness in human–AI teams, both independently and with collaborators.
